AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, July 9.
—Just before the Highlanders and Detroit began operations this afternoon it was announced that Frank Deleahanty, the outfielder, had been signed and would join the club to-morrow. Deleahanty played here two years ago, but was sold to Cleveland, and from there he went to New Orleans. A few days ago he was expelled from the Southern League.

There were 200 people on hand this afternoon at the opening of hostilities. Orth pitched for New York, and he was opposed by Summers.

First Inning.
McIntyre drove a long fly to Stahl. Schaefer smashed a single to center and stole second. Crawford slugged a long single into right, scoring Schaefer. Cobb fled to Stahl, and Rossman offered a high one to Hemphill. ONE RUN.

Niles led off with a single to left and took second as Ball beat out a bunt. Niles was caught off second. Schmidt to Schaefer. Keeler stole second and went to third on Schmidt's bad throw. Chase smashed a single to left and Keeler scored. Downs tossed out Morality. ONE RUN.

Second Inning.
Coughlin hit to Hemphill and Ball threw out Schmidt. Downs singled to right field. Summers beat out a slow one to short. Morality got McIntyre's hot runner and touched out Downs. NO RUN.

Hemphill struck out. Stahl drove a long fly to Cobb. Kleinow was hit by pitched ball. Orth struck out. NO RUN.

Third Inning.
Schaefer popped to Chase. Crawford singled to the infield. Cobb batted a double into right and Crawford went to third. Rossman followed with a two base shot to left, scoring both Crawford and Cobb. Coughlin lined out to Niles and he tossed the ball to Ball in time to double up Rossman. TWO RUNS.

Downs threw out Niles. Ball was out on a hot grounder. Coughlin to Rossman. Keeler fled to McIntyre. NO RUN.

Fourth Inning.
Morality threw out Niles. Ball tossed out Downs. Niles got Summers' NO RUN.

Chase struck out. Morality smashed

FALCADA VICTOR AFTER HARD DRIVE IN STRETCH
Back to the scales, Prince of Pilsen, after running last all the way, closed fast and beat the lame horse for the place money.

Apprentice Has Narrow Escape.
Fueled a serious apprentice boy, narrowly escaped a very injury in the third race. The boy had the mount on Disaster, a four-year-old gelding, out of the mare Misfortune. It came near losing the boy, the boy, going around dead man's curve, as the paddock race is called, there was considerable crowd in the efforts of the jockeys to get the rail. Furest was unseated, but he pluckily hung on to the side of Disaster until the others had gone on by him, and then he went to the ground in a cloud of dust with Disaster on top of him. It seemed as if he had pulled the horse with him as he fell.

Conscious, but dazed, the boy by intuition crept under the rail to the grass as if to escape the hoofs of the other horses. He probably didn't realize that

EMPIRE CITY MEET WILL BE RUN AT BRIGHTON BEACH

Saratoga Officials Agree to Plan and Dates Will Not Conflict.

BY VINCENT TRAFOR.
BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, July 9.—At a meeting of the representatives of the Saratoga and Empire City racing associations and the State Racing Commission, held at the Brighton Beach track this afternoon, it was decided to have a conflict of one day between Saratoga and Empire City this season.

The Saratoga meeting will open on July 20 and continue till Aug. 15, thus making the meeting one of fourteen days' duration. Empire City will open Aug. 15 and run until Aug. 28.

By this new arrangement, Empire City will have four days and Saratoga seven days. The agreement was mutual. The Brighton Beach Racing Association offered its track to the Empire City management free of charge, with a view to saving the horsemen the extra expense of transportation to Empire City. General Manager Winn, on behalf of Empire City, accepted, and the meeting will be run off at Brighton.

PLATFORM DELAYS BRYAN VOTE; NEW YORK CLIMBS ON BAND WAGON

HOTEL THIEF CAUGHT, TRIED AND SENT TO PRISON IN HALF DAY

Levine, Who Bound Woman in Bed in Hotel Belmont This Morning, on Way to Sing Sing Under Long Sentence.

Nathan Levine's Busy Twelve Hours.
2:30 A. M.—He breaks into Major Cookson's room at the Hotel Belmont.
2:35 A. M.—He overpowers Major and Mrs. Cookson.
2:40 A. M.—They overpower him.
2:45 A. M.—The police arrive.
3 A. M.—He escapes Headquarters.
7 A. M.—He eats breakfast.
8:30 A. M.—He confesses.
10 A. M.—He is photographed and measured.
Nathan Levine is arraigned in police court.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning Nathan Levine committed burglary. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon he was on his way to Sing Sing.

These two facts sum up the chronological limits of the quickest criminal proceedings in the history of New York and possibly of the United States. Within those twelve hours the crime was committed and confessed, the criminal had been measured, photographed, arraigned, held, indicted twice, arraigned again, tried, convicted, sentenced and sent away. Alongside of Nathan Levine, Solomon Grundy, who lived his whole life in one week, was a piker.

After successfully engineering the most daring series of hotel robberies that ever occurred in this town, Levine, a novice at the trade, but a young marvel in his operations, reached the end of the tether when he walked a seven-inch coping on the fourteenth floor of the towering Hotel Belmont and crawled through a window equipped with pistol, knife, colorform, red pepper, burglar's lantern and a hankering for other people's property.

For it was his mischance to invade the sleeping room of Major Moxyn Cookson, a doughty line officer of the First Royal Suffolk Regiment of the British Army. Under the hypnotism of shock and fear the Englishman's wife let him bind her hands, but the Major arose shortly thereafter, took his ironmongery away from him, beat him half senseless and sat on him until the arm of the law came, while Mrs. Cookson's cries roused half the sleepers in the big hotel.

Because the two main witnesses against him had to sail at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Europe, the subsequent proceedings were pushed forward with a celerity hitherto unknown in this State of legal delays.

For two weeks the Detective Bureau has been looking for a dark-haired, slim young man who registered at the Imperial as J. Ducas, at the Chelsea as William Miller, at the Waldorf as A. Parish and at the Plaza as W. Q. Clark. But the slender youth who walked last night into the Hotel Belmont carrying two hand bags did not attract the attention of the house detective. He wrote himself Schultz in the register as "Mr. Nathan Schultz." He was given a room on the fourteenth floor, overlooking the roof of the Grand Central station and was soon on his way until Mrs. Josephine Cookson, the pretty wife of Major Cookson, awoke just before daylight in her room, which is No. 736, on the fourth floor, to find the beams of a dark lantern shining in her face.

Threatens to Shoot.
She sat up in bed. Back of the eye of the lantern was an alert looking young man that she never met before.

Sub-Committee on Resolutions Adopts Labor Injunction Plank, but Its Work Is Not Completed and a Recess Until To-Night Is Taken.

DEMANDS MADE FOR THE VALUATION OF RAILROADS.

This Plank Hits at Coal Carrying Roads by Insisting That They Be Prohibited From Doing Business in Competition With Shippers.

BY MARTIN GREEN.
(Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

DENVER, Col., July 9.—New York's delegation to-day climbed onto the Bryan bandwagon, but the nomination of the Peerless One has been delayed by the trouble which the Committee on Resolutions has had in constructing the party platform. After a short session, beginning at 11:30 o'clock, the convention took a recess until 7 o'clock to-night, when the Committee on Resolutions is expected to report.

The New York delegation held a caucus at 10:30 o'clock and adopted the unit rule. Under it Charles F. Murphy will cast the seventy-eight votes in the delegation for Bryan. The delegation will be polled on the floor, as at least ten of the up-State representatives refuse to wear the Bryan collar. George F. Ketchum, of Warwick, was the leader of the anti-Bryan force in the caucus.

Meanwhile the Committee on Resolutions was encountering unexpected difficulties in framing the platform. Judge Parker, of New York; Senator Daniels, of Virginia, and other lawyers picked so many flaws in proposed planks that some of the Bryan shouters declared that the Peerless One's principles were being sacrificed for the sake of legal phraseology.

WORK ON THE PLATFORM.

The main difficulty was with the plank relating to railroads and to injunctions by Federal courts. The construction of these was intrusted to a sub-committee which in turn handed the work over to a smaller committee, which includes Judge Parker, of New York, and George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts.

The injunction plank was first completed. In its essentials it differs little from the one sent to The Evening World last Tuesday, that being the work of the New York platform builders.
